ECONOMY HIT HARD AS 1,000s OF JOBS LOST

VICKERS, FORDS, SHELL, WILKINSON SWORD are all big names in the productive sector of the British economy. All of them, hard hit by government economic mismanagment have announced cutbacks in one form or another.

Vickers is closing its plant in Leeds, and putting 650 workers on the dole. Fifty years of producing armoured fighting vehicles for the British army is to come to an end — at a time when the army's tank force is at its smallest for decades. Vickers' other plant in Newcastle is to see its workforce cut by 30%. After the Siemens closure of its semi-conductor plant, Fujitsu is closing its plant in the Prime Minister's constituency of Sedgefield. Blair went to see Fujitsu workers to tell them that he couldn't save their jobs. Blair was rightly booed and hissed as he told them government could not protect them from "The twists and turns of the world market." 600 are to lose their jobs.

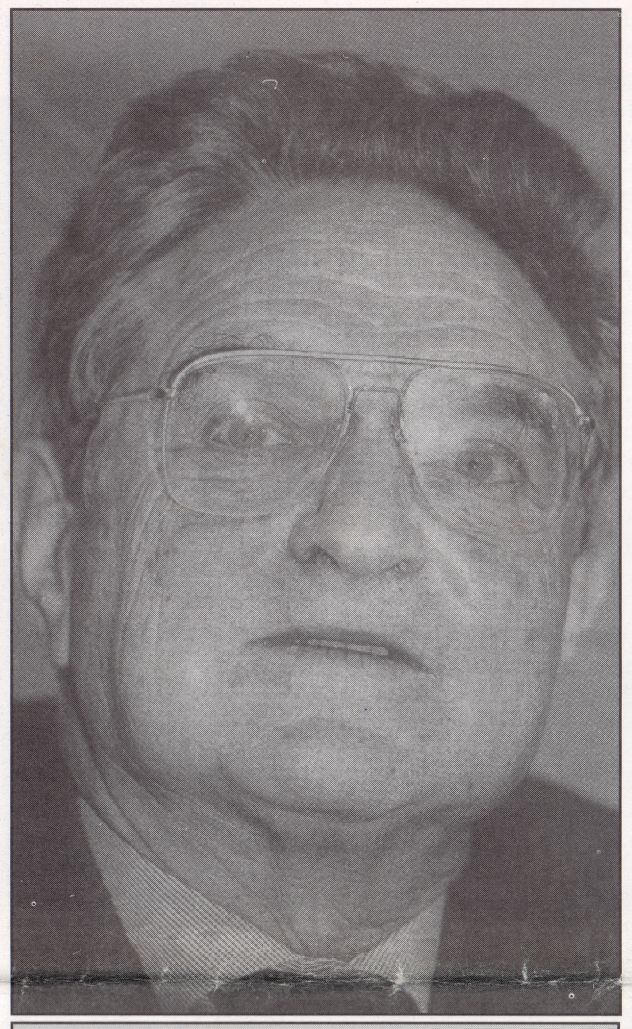

670 jobs are to be lost when nearby Groves Cranes shuts next month. The North East has suffered 4,500 job reported job losses in the past two months. The latest blow is for Wilkinson Sword to be closing its Cramlington plant making razor blades. Another 350 are to join the dole.

Ford has cut its production of Fiestas and introduced four day week working, Shell UK is to shut its UK HQ to save costs, axing 2,000 jobs. Together with other closures such as Avesta and Viasystems losing 2,000 jobs between them and making steel and printed circuit boards, these closures are gutting what's left of British manufacturing and our ability to create real wealth and provide real jobs.

"The global capitalist system responsible for our remarkable prosperity is coming apart at the seams" — George Soros

GEORGE SOROS, the billionaire financial speculator and the man who forced Britain out of the ERM costing every family in Britain several hundred pounds has warned that global finance capitalism is falling apart.

Soros was speaking of the danger of the system imploding as the flight of capital from South America and East Asia reaches panic proportions.

Already, the consequences have hit Britain hard with firms closing down as a flood of cheap imports has hit UK markets following the collapse of some foreign currencies. The Economist magazine has already said: 'For the first time since the early 1980s, global slump is a thinkable, even plausible outcome.'

With the International Monetary Fund fully committed, it is more than possible for one or more banks across the world to fail. The consequences for 'the world economy' would be dire. They're all saying it, and Britain whose previous governments have locked the country in to the 'global village' of the New World Order will suffer as a result. Complete dependence on foreign imports and exposure to foreign investment capital together with a total lack of self-sufficiency, or any kind of strategic economic plan mean that any world recession will be very bad news for the UK.

This situation could have mostly been avoided. Under a nationalist government, it would have been. Reduced exposure to foreign capital and a vast reduction in foreign manufactured imports would have shielded our manufacturing base and shielded jobs. Exports would still be hit. But that's a better situation than the one we have at present!

MI5 TACKLES MUSLIM THREAT

In last month's BN, the front page carried the headline "British to be 'legitimate targets' in Islamic war of terror against America", and the story detailed how the leaders of militant Islam in Britain made this shock admission on BBC Radio 4, but which was not picked up on by any of the national dailies.

Sometime before, Muslim leaders had said that they were shocked when MI5 began trying to recruit Arabic speakers [Muslims, regardless of nationality, are fluent in Arabic since the Koran allows no translation for the faithful — Ed]. The Home Office responded that they needed the recruits to gather intelligence on Middle Eastern groups. Additionally, MI5 were also seeking speakers of Farsi, Turkish, Punjabi and Urdu.

After Prime Minister Blair had unwisely backed the American airstrike on a Sudanese medicine factory, Moslems were understandably outraged. It was then that Omar Bakri Mohamed, the leader of al-Muhajiroun said that "Britons living on the mainland UK would be 'legitimate targets' for retaliation."

One of the follies of multi-racialism was immediately exposed, but deliberately not given a wider circulation by the media.

James Whale on Talk Radio when interviewing the BNP's Mike Newland (see p10) thus thought BN's headline far fetched. But a week later, seven arrests were made in London in a terror swoop conducted by the Met's anti-terrorist branch in conjunction with the Special branch secret police and MI5.

This isn't just a case of BN having been proved right. It is a further vindication of the BNP's policy on immigration. Immigrants in London speaking a first language other than English have proliferated to the extent that the number of these languages alone is more than 200!

At any one time there are at least one-hundred wars and insurgencies going on in the world. Britain's asylum policy means that many of the combatants and ex-combatants are over here!

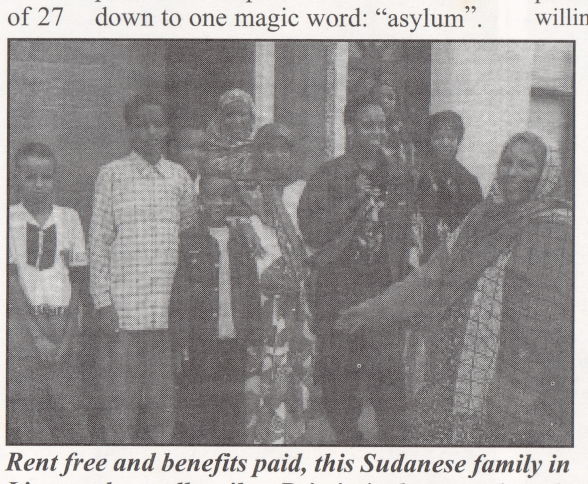

THE REFUGEE TIDAL WAVE

Seven Sri Lankans held by police after jumping out of a lorry in Shrewsbury; trucker opens lorry delivering German satellite dishes and eleven Afghanis and Albanians jump out; ten illegals from Sri Lanka make off from a lorry unloading in Birmingham. Police are called who handed them over to social services; trucker delivering light fittings from Holland opens truck in Romford and six Albanians and four Pakistanis jump out. Police are called who then let them go; a group of 27 illegals from Russia and Albania are discovered in a lorry unloading in Lincolnshire; a lorry delivering parts from Peugot is found to have 19 illegals on board; trucker delivering chemicals opens lorry and four illegals jump out. All claim asylum; two Serbs hitch a lift on a lorry's rear axle, hanging on as it thunders down the M4 in Wiltshire; 14 Kurds get out of their lorry while still on a ferry. When crew intervene, the illegals cut up rough until docking, when police use batons and tear gas to subdue them. Even so, if they've claimed asylum, they're home and dry!

All these reports have come in the last couple of months and there are dozens more. In the first eight months of this year, 1,909 illegals were detained at Dover alone compared with 852 for the whole of last year. In one day, 70 illegals were discovered at Dover so overwhelming social services that the army had to be asked to house them in temporary barracks.

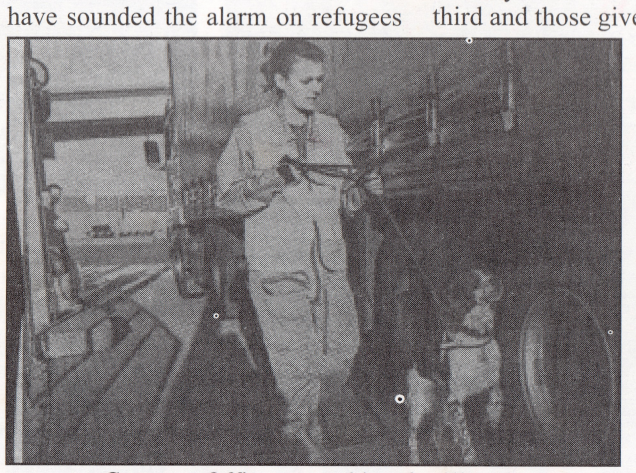

The police have been unfairly criticised for simply handing illegals over to social services. Yet what are they to do under a law which says that anyone saying: "asylum" stays?

The national dailies to their credit have sounded the alarm on refugees but to what effect? The Sunday Mirror carried a story saying that the government is to make a 'blitz' on bogus asylum seekers, on which the delays on processing alone cost the country £500 million per year. Yet the government's favourite method of reducing the number waiting to be processed is to grant them an amnesty! The fact is, that under the current system, no 'blitz' or control is possible. It's open door Britain and all down to one magic word: "asylum".

Rent free and benefits paid, this Sudanese family in Liverpool are all smiles. Britain is the most densely populated part of planet earth after Hong Kong

'Refugee criminals' is also another media staple. Back in January, South London's Southwark News reported 158 broken chairs and 8 smashed tables in: 'Albanian Asylum Seekers Brawl with Maltese Holiday Makers at Elephant Hotel'. This involved a battle involving one-hundred people! The Daily Mail ran a story, 'The refugee robbers' revealing that half of the Slovakian refugees pouring into Britain have criminal records. Kosovan refugees wrecked a nurses apartment complex and The Mail ran a front page story, 'Refugee Crime Wave in London'. Pick-pocketing is rising and the numbers of those actually kicked out have fallen by a third and those given leave to remain have gone up by half.

Customs Officer searching for illegals. Previous Tory governments deliberately starved the service of funds and manpower because they didn't want to stem the illegal flow!

So large are the numbers coming in that they are affecting official figures as to the population. The office for national statistics reveal that last year the population increased, helped by 60,000 legal immigrants and 41,000 asylum seekers; giving total immigration of more than 100,000 per year. Furthermore, this figure doesn't include the illegals who go undetected. The Evening Standard has gone so far as to use the word 'crisis'. The Sun's Littlejohn waxes eloquently on the subject:

> 'The gravy train now arriving at Terminal One is the benefits special from what used to be Czechoslovakia. Passengers are invited to form a queue at the nearest DSS office and apply for political asylum. Staff are ready and willing to pander to your every need. Terrorists, rapists and muggers are especially welcome. The British taxpayer will be delighted to pick up the bill...'

Nevertheless, the likes of Littlejohn never grasp the nettle. He and others like him whine and moan, but never reach the conclusion that all immigration needs to be stopped, and that 'asylum' in the age of the jet is no longer practicable on an all-comer basis. Indeed, Littlejohn and his ilk (the secret accomplices of immigration) denigrate the BNP at every opportunity.

Immigrants coming to Britain immediately jump the housing queue as 'priority homeless' and are housed ahead of Britons who may have waited years. Benefits packages totalling £260 per week are then provided for these lucky couples who truly believe that they have found the land of milk and honey. And no wonder!

While ninety per cent of asylum seekers are eventually found to be economic migrants, the appeals procedure takes three years at the end of which, the majority stay anyway because there is not the manpower or resources to enforce the decision. Meanwhile, there are plenty of resources to pay for benefits!

Sri Lankan 'asylum seekers'. Why should they go to India, Burma or Pakistan when by going the extra 2,000 miles they can come to Britain and claim benefit!

One such illegal, Rasid Musa was gaoled for a sex offence. Released, he was not deported and he went on to rape a woman and a boy at knife-point.

Balkan 'refugees' top up their benefits by engaging in a little aggresive begging

The refugee racket is a very lucrative one. Musa's solicitor successfully appealed against his deportation. Musa's thanks was a sexual crime wave. Whole firms of solicitors are now helping the 'refugees' obtain benefits, appeal for leave to remain and generally performing a disservice to society. All financed by the taxpayer!

Every 50 refugees in the West Midlands is costing the taxpayer there £300,000 per year. Care professionals are talking of the system's 'impending collapse'. To stave this off, local authorities are slashing services to fund the refugees. Old folk's homes are being shut down and then opened up again as refugee hostels; meals on wheels are being axed; OAP taxi rides (in place of free bus tickets) are being axed; libraries are being shut down; all manner of civic amenities are vanishing under the crushing wave of the new immigration.

Newham is struggling with a £6 million per year asylum bill and other London boroughs are in a similar situation. Accommodation in the capital has already reached crisis point and that means lucky Britons elsewhere in the country can increasingly look forward to receiving their share of the problem.

Pressure on the taxpayer is further accentuated by benefit fraud. Mother-of-ten Zubeda Haq was gaoled for a £60,000 benefit swindle. Her bank accounts totalled £150,000 and she had several properties. She was gaoled for 18 months (to serve just 9). And people say that crime doesn't pay!

The other parties' extremism cannot be disguised: continuing immigration, the breakdown of social services and the changing of Britain beyond recognition. Only the BNP stands up to say: "Enough!"

THE WELLING CLUB

The land that was ours now belongs to the alien, decadent, and corrupt. Many of our people have lost all sense of racial identity and pride. The heritage, culture and honour of the once proud Briton no longer has any value or meaning. Our children are facing a future devoid of hope as Britain becomes part of the Third World nightmare.

In this time of crisis, only one defiant movement fights back for Britain and the British: the British National Party.

Those who stand against our movement of a national rebirth are many in number and very powerful.

In order for the BNP to continue to promote our message of British Nationalism we urgently need YOUR financial support.

We need financial support in order to build the British National Party into an unstoppable force for racial and national renewal: we need money to be able to increase our propaganda output; to fight elections; to educate and train our members; to expand our literature; to help develop our organisational infrastructure. In short, we need money to be able to fight back for Britain and the British.

Therefore, British Nationalist is asking you to help support the British National Party by becoming a member of the Welling Club.

Membership of the Welling Club is open to all persons, whether or not BNP members, willing to contribute £20 each month to the party's funds.

Welling Club members are sent regular bulletins informing them of progress in achieving various BNP projects for which their donations are needed. They are also invited to attend free of charge, an annual club dinner addressed by the BNP chairman.

Those wishing to join the Welling Club should apply, sending their initial £20 contribution (made out to British National Party), to PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

The BNP makes no apologies for asking for this financial commitment from all of its members and supporters and of all BN readers. Finances are as important to the success of the BNP as are activists on the streets and the estates.

The BNP still needs £30,000 to fight the Euro elections next year. Just an extra 125 Club members could raise this sum in a year!

This is a struggle that the BNP must win, because there will be no second chance for Britain and the British. The British National Party is relying on your help. Build the victory. Join the Welling Club and help make history!

BLACK SEPARATIST GROUPS ON THE RISE

In a welcome development, Black separatist groups in Britain appear to be on the rise. While BN readers may wonder why this is such good news, the answer is that these groups all recognise the damage being done to their people and culture by multi-racialism and wish to protect them and theirs by rejecting this evil creed. That of course in turn helps insulate white people too!

Black separatists need no reminding that high percentages of black males are either dating, or have dated, white females. Black women are understandably furious that their menfolk are letting them down, as are white nationalists with regard to some British women.

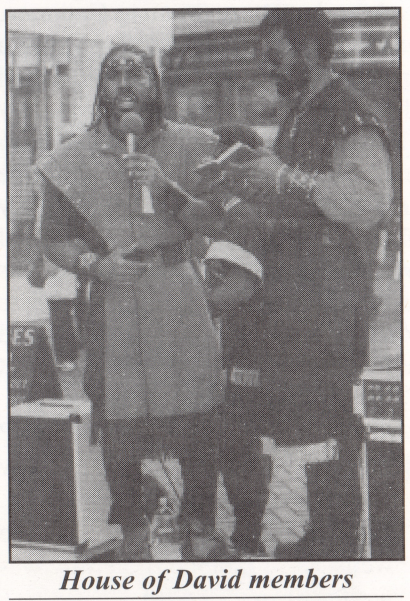

At root, Black and White nationalists agree that multi-racialism is evil, that there needs to be a complete separation for our peoples.

The most prominent group in this regard has been the American based Nation of Islam (N.O.I.). Some of its statements (made in America) have tended towards the extreme, but these have mostly been rhetoric designed for internal consumption. The N.O.I. have built up a power base in London and now have several mosques as well, it is rumoured, all-black schools.

The growth of Black identity can be seen in a new group to have arrived in Britain, like the N.O.I., from America — the House of David. The House of David, like the N.O.I., combines religious revival along with feelings of Black self worth. Unlike the N.O.I. which takes a Muslim standpoint, the House of David is a Christian organisation. They claim that Jesus was Black and that his only true followers are Black. The Sunday Mercury have denounced them as 'racists', but BN does not believe so. As group member Gadiwan said after preaching in Birmingham:

> "We are not racists, we just believe blacks and whites are fundamentally different."

To which BN can only give three cheers. When black and white nationalists can agree on this kind of basic platform, and rejecting the 'racist' tag of the media, then the face of politics in this country will start to undergo radical change. Clearly, racial politics in Britain are destined to see a few more surprises yet.

TRAFALGAR DAY WEDNESDAY 21st OCTOBER

On this day 193 years ago, Admiral Horatio Nelson, Britain's greatest son, defeated a combined French/Spanish fleet which outnumbered the Royal Navy. Although victorious, he died in action, a hero to the end. On this day, raise a glass to that British hero, the land that bore him and the heroes yet to come!

Ode to England

The English People are so nice and gentle to be sure,
They will stand by very quietly
While muggers kick you on the floor.
They hope that dear old granny
Will turn the other cheek,
and still smile very sweetly
While she's beaten in the street.

They are never rude or arrogant
Their manners are superb
They gave away their Empire
Without an angry word.
They very much admire their Grim and Glorious Queen who helped betray Rhodesia
With Soames there on the scene.
The traitors were so happy
Mugabe won that day,
Just the way they planned it
"Democracy" they say.

The Establishment in England
Knows that hanging is obscene,
So they treat their killers kindly and release them very soon,
They only kill the babies unwanted in the womb,
Now there's no back-street abortions
It is all so very clean.

The English love their Bishops
So gentle and serene
Sipping tea politely
Beside the village green.
"We now know so much better than Cranmer did" they say,
And all the genteel English ladies
say "Amen," so let us pray,
We'll recite the creed and liturgy
in modern English tongue,
The Bishop smiles complacently
He knows what has begun!
Next week he'll introduce them to the Brandt Report, you'll see
How his radical persuasion
Will lead on to CND.
And the gentle English people will never disagree,
They would rather loose their freedom
Than be out of harmony.

Are the little Cockney skinheads
the only ones who care?
They don't intellectualise it but they feel it in the air, and with earthy intuition
Know that something is amiss,
When their fathers fought for England
Did they bleed and die for this?

Is this the blessed country
Where the saints and martyrs trod?
And do their bones still lie there
Buried deep beneath the sod?
Is this the land where Arthur reigned?
Establishing the worth
Of teaching English people to obey
God's laws on Earth.
Some say the Holy Lamb of God
Has even passed this way,
So is this the New Jerusalem
In Brixton here today?

The Western Sun is sinking over
England's pleasant shore,
And her people are more silent
than they ever were before,
For they've learned to go in gently
To the darkest winter night,
And they never even murmur
At the dying of the light.
For the Yeomen of Olde England
they all died long ago,
Now there is no one left in England
To defend her from the foe.

THE TED BUDDEN COLUMN

LIBELLOUS

The report by the Broadcasting Standards Commission recently strongly criticised the BBC and ITV for allowing gratuitous violence and sexually explicit material before the 9.30 pm 'watershed' that is supposed to protect children from such influences. However, if the Commission and Lady Howe its Chairman, believe that any but the youngest children are in bed by 9.30 pm they are sadly out of touch. Certainly the most vulnerable group, young teenagers, are not tucked up in bed. Scenes of fornication and the use of obscene language have increasingly become the televisual norm and producers vie with each other to see who can go farthest.

Of course they claim, as they have always done, that television is merely mirroring real life when it is a sad fact, that life increasingly mirrors television and the mores of television become the norm of everyday life.

Fornication is now euphemistically described as 'making love' which it most certainly is not. This may explain why over 9,000 schoolgirls became pregnant last year, the worst record of any civilised country, assuming Britain is still a civilised country! Actresses and even television presenters become famous, not for their dubious talents but for their willingness to bare all in public.

I, for one, strongly object to scenes of explicit (presumably) simulated sexual intercourse that are inserted into plays and films without any reference to the plot. I do not wish to see heaving bosoms and bottoms however comical they may be and I resent being made an involuntary voyeur. If I wished to be a peeping Tom, I would put on my dirtiest raincoat and spy on courting couples in my local park.

In addition, both BBC and ITV increasingly portray the greatest obscenity of all — miscegenation. One can only assume that it is their intention to deprave and corrupt. Television, once thought to be the bright light of the future, has become an open sewer running through everyone's living room.

The BBC has recently been running a series of adverts to justify its continued funding by the TV licence fee. After extolling the virtues of all the goodies the BBC has given us, the voice-over announces sonorously, "The BBC. You make it what it is."

I resent that implication. It is damnably libellous. For two pins I'd sue them but I can't afford to — I've just paid for my television licence.

HARD TIMES

I don't suppose that if you asked most people the name of their Member of the European Parliament they would be able to tell you and that includes me. These MEPs are usually elected on a poll that is even lower than that for a Council election yet they are very important people who cost us plenty.

For instance, an MEP receives a subsistence allowance of £140 per day. Plenty of pensioners, if they merely receive the basic pension, subsist on less than half of that per week. An MEP also receives a general expenses allowance of £2,000 per month. In addition the MEP receives a secretarial allowance of £70,000 per year. Since very few people know his name, it seems unlikely that his correspondence will weigh the postman down. No wonder that their spouses normally pluck that ripe plum.

However, things are going to get tougher on the financial front. It has been proposed that the method by which MEPs are reimbursed for their travel expenses should be altered. Yes, it's true. It is suggested that they should, in future, receive only the actual cost of travel instead of the present system whereby they are paid the price of a business class air fare plus 30% no matter what form of transport they actually use. There's hardship for you.

But then we already know what kind of transport they use. They're all aboard the gravy train.

IMPORTING POVERTY

Free market capitalism is, I suppose, more efficient than communism, even if a great many Russians currently think otherwise. That it is far from perfect is becoming increasingly obvious. For it is the philosophy of boom and bust.

As a small, if trivial, example: The video craze in the eighties. I was advised by a friend to get in on the act and invest in a video shop. I resolutely declined. Soon there was a video shop on nearly every street corner. A year later, all but a few were closed down, their windows plastered by fly posters.

A more recent example is that of semi-conductors. Up till a couple of years ago they were literally worth their weight in gold. Everybody started making them because in our 'global economy', information technology was king or so people believed. The result was massive over-production and a cataclysmic fall in price to one twentieth of their previous value with the result that making silicon chips is now the best way of going bankrupt. That is why the German firm Siemens is closing its semi-conductor factory in the North East as the ailing economies of the Far East dump silicon chips on our markets at knock-down prices. And there is a knock on effect. BOC, the industrial gases manufacturer, is shedding jobs. It is heavily involved in making super-clean gases for the semi-conductor industry. My last employer, Edwards High Vacuum, a subsidiary of BOC, makes vacuum pumps that are also used in semi-conductor manufacturing. After several boom years they are also shedding jobs.

All 'economic miracles' come to an end. The German 'economic miracle' came to pass when German workers were prepared to work very hard for very little. When the workers began to demand their cut, the economic miracle came to an end. It was the same with the Japanese 'economic miracle', the Korean, then the Indonesian the Malaysian and the Thai. The Asian 'tiger economies' are now looking very mangy indeed and Malaysia is now deporting its foreign 'guest workers' at a rate of knots. Strangely, nobody has accused Malaysia of racism.

Up till fairly recently, fund managers were advising their clients to invest in the Japanese stock market even though they made a return on average of only one half of one percent. People bought shares because everyone else was buying shares with the result that the price of shares soared to unsustainable levels. Then came the melt-down, not only on the stock market but in the value of the yen. Today Japan has a heavy economic cold while the 'tiger economies' have something akin to the flu. The International Monetary Fund has been pouring in billions in an attempt to shore them up but it has all vanished down the same black hole with the result that the IMF now has very little money or promissory notes left. As Alan Greenspan, the Chairman of the US Federal Reserve admitted just recently, "We do not as yet fully understand the new system's dynamics." You can say that again Alan. The problem is international free trade and footloose money that can be switched on or off at a moment's notice. Thus it becomes impossible for any government engaged in international trade to have any long term economic plan.

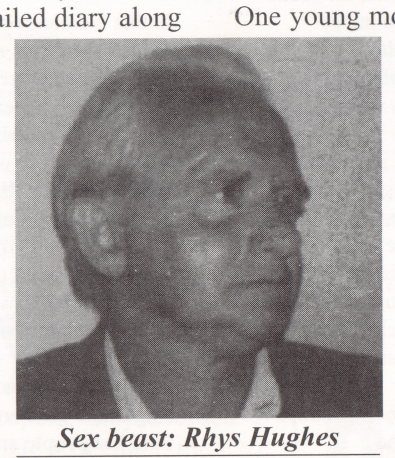

The only possible solution is a more closed market involving countries with a similar culture, economic philosophy and self-sufficiency where possible. It is only by insulating ourselves from the 'free market' in our 'global economy' that we can ever be prosperous.

To paraphrase the late Henry Ford, the international free market is bunk.

BNP CAMPAIGN AGAINST PAEDOPHILES' RETURN

The Instant Response Unit galvinised activists from South London in a joint campaign against vile sex monster, Rhys Hughes in the South Oxfordshire village of Sonning Common.

This beast has has just been released from Dartmoor prison after serving 6 years for the rape and buggery of 9 children. Hughes started abusing children in 1958, but was only discovered 33 years later. Police found a detailed diary along with hundreds of sick photo's.

Sex beast: Rhys Hughes

Hughes has said that he wishes to return home to the village where some of his victims still live. Anger among the local residents has been at fever pitch, as BNP activists found out while leafleting the village. Only one woman objected to the party's presence and screamed out that she found our anti-paedophile leaflet offensive! This sicko said she would rather live next-door to a paedophile than a member of the BNP. She was very quickly shouted down by a group of her neighbours, who had been talking with party activists at their garden gates. Shamed and isolated, she rapidly fled indoors.

One young mother in the village said she wished to see Hughes' photo, incase he moved back to the area so that she could protect her young daughter. BN is only too happy to oblige (left).

The latest news is that Hughes has gone to ground.

After leafleting Sonning Common, the busy party activists, travelled a short distance to the Royal Berkshire Country Fair, where they distributed 700 copies of British Countryman. The response from the Berkshire rural community was very encouraging, just as it has been all over the country where the party has leafleted similar events. There is a crisis in the farming industry and people are beginning to find out that the BNP has many of the answers.

● In late August, Croydon BNP leafleted the Hickstead show jumping event in West Sussex. Again, the reception from the green welly horse jumping fraternity was welcoming. 800 British Countryman' were given out, including some to the BBC outside broadcasting technicians.

JOIN THE BNP'S ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY CLUB

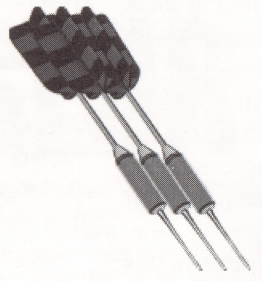

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY! The traditional cry of triumph when a darts player gets three triple twenties is about to take on a special meaning for the British National Party as well. The One Hundred And Eighty Club will exist for just one year, but it is going to make a major contribution to the growth of the BNP. Members will pay £180 in a single donation, or £15 per month for twelve months. Every penny raised in this way will go towards the party's Euro-Election Fund.

In addition to the satisfaction of knowing that they are helping the BNP to reach and perhaps even beat its target, members of the One Hundred and Eighty Club will also receive special bulletins from the Publicity Department which will keep them up to date with plans for the party's Euro-election propaganda campaign. All members who fulfil their £180 pledge will be invited to attend a One Hundred and Eighty Club meeting and pre-Christmas buffet near the end of next year. This event will be open to One Hundred and Eighty Club members only, and will include a special draw in which the completed contribution cards of every club member will be entered — with the lucky winner receiving £250 in cash and a Yuletide hamper.

The initiative for this development came from senior party member, Mr. Richard Molesworth of Cheltenham. Mr. Molesworth, who is living on a pension, very generously volunteered to set the fund off with an initial donation of £180, which was promptly matched by personal pledges from BNP leaders John Tyndall, Nick Griffin, Tony Lecomber and Richard Edmonds, The figure of £180 has been agreed on because £15 per month, while a very affordable sum, adds up to a really worthwhile contribution.

A contribution card is being inserted into every copy of this issue of British Nationalist. We urge every reader to join the Club, either by making a one-off donation of at least £180, or by sending the card off together with their first £15. If by chance you do not receive a card, one will be sent on receipt of your first donation.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY!

Club Membership Record Card

In order to avoid adding to the already heavy workload on the staff at the usual Welling PO Box, the One Hundred and Eighty Club will be administered from P.O. Box 14, Welshpool, Powys, SY21 0WE. Cheques and POs should be made payable to 'One Hundred and Eighty Club.' Please do not send cash.

Because of the deadlines imposed by the election and the Club buffet next year, Club members paying by monthly instalments must join before the end of this October. BN looks forward to announcing the number who have joined soon and is confident that our readers will help to make the One Hundred and Eighty Club a great success.

OUR COMRADE RULERS

Labour MP Iain Coleman's aide let the cat out of the bag in a private internal memo which has been leaked to the press. He said that Labour activists were social misfits and mentally ill. This frankness is welcome. Mr. Blair take note!

'Labour's activists are social misfits, rejects of society and mentally ill'
— AND THAT'S ACCORDING TO A LABOUR MP'S AIDE!

● Meanwhile, buck-toothed Brinton, the Labour MP for Peterborough, appears to have cracked under the strain of the combined onslaught of the national media exposing her fantasies and the BNP's local campaign in the area. Brinton announced on the front page of the Peterborough Evening Telegraph: 'They're out to get me' — referring to her comrades in the Labour Party. Clearly, Brinton has lost it. Brinton dropped her action against a national newspaper which accused her of 'dirty talk' in a London café, compared herself with Princess Diana, said that colleagues were jealous of her beauty, and told of her hurt at being labelled 'gap toothed' by a national newspaper.

Beautiful Brinton: 'They're out to get me'

● More seriously, Labour's Glasgow Govan MP, Mohammed Sarwar is wriggling on the hook of criminal charges being brought by the police for alleged transactions during last year's General Election.

● In nearby Renfewshire West, disgraced Labour MP Tommy Graham has finally been booted out of the Labour party for his part in driving fellow MP Gordon McMaster to suicide.

Coleman: Aide let it all hang out.

● Former Labour Mayor of Todmorden, John Winstanley has been gaoled for the rape of a prostitute and threatening to kill her. After the rape, Winstanley ordered the woman to crouch on all fours before urinating over her.

● Another Labour councillor, Derrick Payne from Durham has been arrested following a sex attack. He is to appear at magistrates to answer charges of indecent assault.

● Labour councillor, David Spooner from Scunthorpe has been arrested and charged with multiple counts of buggery on males under the age of 16. In other words, little boys. He has also been charged with soliciting in a public toilet.

● It's not only Labour swelling the ranks of the sex beasts, Francis Butler a Lib-Dem councillor for Sheffield and Mayor elect for the year 2000 is also up before the beak for indecently assaulting a young boy.

Labour councillor David Spooner: charged with multiple counts of buggering little boys

TO THE POINT

Or, We Couldn't Put It Better Ourselves — Items in the establishment press showing opinion moving our way.

We are being told Britain was short of workers when the Windrush arrived 50 years ago and the government of the day turned to the Caribbean for new labour. The truth was, British workers would not accept low pay, long hours and poor conditions and flatly refused the jobs available.

Rather than improve these, the government looked abroad and brought in workers who were worse off, with promises of riches in the mother country.

It wasn't the immigrant's fault. They were used by the government to break the stance by British workers for better pay and conditions. After the war what was on offer was unacceptable.

G. Francis,
letters, Daily Express

I wish to discuss English Nationalism. Have you noticed how even now, a month after the World Cup, thousands of St. George flags are still up in windows, on cars, taxis and even flagpoles?

The English are coming to realise that the United Kingdom is loosening up. In the backs of all our minds in England there is a dawning consciousness that we are a country too. That is a foundation upon which English politicians — Labour, Lib-Dem and Conservative — could build. [If they don't], look at some of the types who could fill this vacuum: racists and the BNP!

Matthew Parris, The Sun.

Since most of the illegal immigrants come from the other side of Europe and must cross something like half a dozen countries before reaching the UK. Why don't they claim asylum in one of them?

R. Clifford,
letters, Mail on Sunday.

After the Downing Street Declaration, Paisley said that it would lead to the admission of Sinn Fein to all-party talks without any decommissioning of weapons. This was flatly denied by both the Irish and British governments. [during] the Referendum campaign, I had the strong feeling that the No campaigners had won the argument. They were told that there was no alternative. To that, Robert McCartney, the UK Unionist replied that the alternative to releasing murderers from prison was not to release murderers.

Paisley was more right than he can have guessed. Not only has Sinn Fein been admitted to talks without any decommissioning, murderers are being released from prison as a political sop.

Geoffrey Wheatcroft,
The Express*.

Amid the encircling gloom, Tony Blair, it seems, wants to disclaim all responsibility for the economy, even before recession strikes. As the outlook gets more difficult, so the degree to which the Government has constrained itself by its own actions become more apparent. Monetary policy is now subcontracted to the Bank of England, [so] even the traditional escape route of inflating its way out of trouble is closed to the government. Nor will its micro-economic policies be much help when it comes to replacing the jobs that will be lost in the months ahead.

Daily Telegraph.

I was furious when I read that the government is upping asylum seekers grants of £165 per week. I am a fully paid up pensioner. I don't get near that amount and don't qualify for any benefits.

Yet I pay all my insurance and council tax. No wonder the country is flooded by foreigners. I think I'll go out and come in again.

Peter Tompkins says that there has never been an asylum amnesty in the UK (letters, July 31), but he retired as head of the immigration service before the secret amnesty of 1992-93. As many as 20,000 asylum seekers who had been found to be bogus were granted residence here, some in false identities.

John Tincey, Immigration Service Union, letters, Daily Telegraph.

The word 'crisis' should be used sparingly by newspapers or politicians, but the dramatic surge of refugees heading for Britain from all over the world is thoroughly alarming. We report today that the figures for asylum seekers reaching this country are set to break all records. And the behaviour of some of those who are admitted is unlikely to encourage the British people to feel more welcoming.

Evening Standard.

With the increasing number of refugees arriving in Britain, it's time to admit that the concept of political asylum is an anachronistic throwback to a past idealistic age.

Many of these people come from violent societies, and we have seen cases in recent weeks of murders, rapes and other crimes of violence committed by such people.

Why should they be allowed to abuse the system and deprive many of the population, some desperately in need of help, of scarce resources?

Mrs. Hurst, letters, Daily Mail.

STOP LABOUR'S ATTACK ON THE WELFARE STATE!

Last year, many people voted Labour to rid the country of the Tories and bring an end to their corruption and the misery they imposed. Many hoped that Labour would reverse the cuts that the Tories had made. Thousands have been disillusioned as it has become apparent that Labour will simply follow the Tories' heartless policies even more brutally. They are getting away with it in a way that the Tories never could, simply because they are Labour.

Old folk have seen hopes of a fairer pension dashed with yet another Labour 'review'. Meanwhile they have been given a £20 sop over the winter to keep them quiet. The scandal is that since Thatcher broke the earnings-related link with pensions, pensioners are now down £23 per week. OAPs must wonder whether they really did finish on the winning side in the war, when Germany can treat its old folk so much better.

LABOUR'S BROKEN PROMISES

After breaking their promises to pensioners, Labour put the boot into students hoping for a decent education. Labour says that students must take on crippling debt if they want to go on to university. The Labour politicians who say this have already had their free education!

Showing their contempt for ordinary people even further, Labour are punishing abandoned single parents by confiscating their benefits, and the next on the hit-list are the sick in receipt of sickness benefit. Labour hope that cutting the pittance of those on sickness benefit will rake in even more money than attacking single mums. Welfare to work, may all be very well, but there has to be jobs out there in the first place!

For many who voted 'new' Labour, the penny is starting to drop. 'New' Labour = Old Tories; Tony Blair is Tory Blair. Labour are the Tory Party in disguise! The Labour party has abandoned ordinary working people. Labour are more interested in 'gays', ethnics and their rich money-bags backers. The British National Party says it's time to stop wasting £millions on over-paid advisory committees stuffed with Labour councillors, bogus asylum-seekers, and foreign handouts. The BNP says: stop the cuts and put our own people FIRST!

STOP THE RACE ATTACKS!

FROM THIS ⇦ TO THIS ⇨ and all 'thanks' to multi-racialism

A White boy lies in a coma close to death on a life support machine because politicians have forced an unworkable multi-racialism upon us with all the violence that entails.

Little Daniel Moore, aged 12, was attacked by a gang of 20 racist Asians armed with bricks, bottles and lumps of wood. He had been playing football with two friends when the 20 older youths chased the three, screaming: "You pieces of white trash." Poor Daniel couldn't get away and stood no chance as the 20 battered him near to death. It wouldn't be acceptable if whites had attacked an Asian boy and this attack is not acceptable either. While the media took up the story, there was no linking of this attack to others showing a definite trend of attacks against whites. Only four months before this, an eight-year-old in Halifax was racially attacked by three older Asians who beat him, set him on fire and ran off laughing. At the same time in London, 15 white boys playing football, aged 14-16, were attacked by 20 older Asians armed with knives, bottles and axes. More Asians joined in to ensure that the boys could not escape, and horrific injuries were inflicted. There is a near conspiracy of silence in the media about these and other attacks. LAST YEAR NO FEWER THAN FOUR WHITES WERE MURDERED BECAUSE OF THE COLOUR OF THEIR SKIN: Christopher Farrell, Andrew Steventon, Mark Sharp and Danny Westmacott. But the media only talk about the murder of black Stephen Lawrence. Don't white victims count? Is the BNP the only group speaking up for white people and against the violence? Yes! But you'll not be reading that in the controlled media!

The BNP says: stop the racial attacks — ALL OF THEM!

STOP THE BUILDING!

A TIDAL WAVE of development is wrecking hundreds of villages and market towns. A flood of concrete is destroying thousands of acres of prime farmland, beauty spots and the habitats of rare and endangered wildlife.

What is planned around here is only a small part of the big picture. Up to 1,000 square miles of virgin countryside are to be paved-over to make way for an official target of 4.4 million new homes by the year 2016.

In fact, it's going to be even worse than that! The 4.4 million figure was decided on by the Conservatives before the last general election, but Labour Government planners are now working on a revised figure of 5.7 million new houses. That means that even more of our heritage is going to be destroyed. In the words of Labour planning minister, Richard Caborn: "The green belt is up for grabs."

The worst thing of all is that the resulting destruction of rural communities, wildlife and farmland is totally unnecessary. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of derelict land in and around Britain's cities and big towns. Hitherto land were redeveloped, there would be plenty of new homes, and none of the extra traffic, jams and pollution which will be caused by people commuting from new dormitory towns into the cities.

But reclaiming urban wasteland is less profitable than bulldozing our countryside, so the politicians — councillors and MPs alike — get big back-handers from the developers and construction companies in return for allowing them to concrete over fields, woods and villages.

That's why the only way to stop the building is to throw out the old politicians.

If you agree that it's time to take action to preserve Britain's countryside, then you've got to help to build a completely new political force, which is pledged to put the interests of the British people as a whole before those of greedy developers or bought-and-paid-for politicians.

CONSERVATIVE? NOT ANY MORE!

A PARTY that stands for the family. A party that stands up for the victims of crime, and for the effective punishment of criminals. A party that promotes decency and rejects perversion. A party that stands for Britain, and for the silent majority. A party that stands for you. Very probably, that used to be the Conservative Party — but times have changed!

It's true that more and more of what is going wrong in our country today is the fault of the Labour Government, but deciding to vote against Blair & Co. next time isn't enough to turn things around. After all, the present rot started under the last government.

Cutting mortgage interest tax relief, slashing university grants, and the skewing of the social security system to favour single parents over married couples, were all anti-family policies dreamed up by the Tories. Similarly, it was the last Conservative Government which signed the Maastricht Treaty and so condemned Britain to be submerged in a Federal Europe.

The Tories talk about "preserving the British identity," about "family values" and "listening" to ordinary people. But don't be fooled by what they say, look at what they do!

The 'Con' Party

William Hague (pictured chasing the 'ethnic' vote at the Notting Hill carnival) may talk like a 'Euro-sceptic', but he has fixed the lists of approved European Election candidates so as to force local Tory party activists to adopt pro-Federal Europe candidates. The baseball-cap wearing 'traditionalist' may talk about "family values', but he supported the disgusting Labour attempt to make it legal for grown men to bugger schoolboys. Many of the Conservative MPs who voted for this perverts' charter are themselves homosexuals.

One of Hague's up-and-coming MPs, 'right-wing' bachelor Alan Duncan, has gone even further. When his Rutland constituents found themselves facing a threat to house the convicted paedophile child-killer, Robert Oliver, in a hostel in the village of Wing, they naturally asked for his help in stopping this deadly threat. Yet, instead of taking notice of his constituents' concerns for their children's freedom, innocence and lives, Duncan sided instead with the liberal do-gooders backing the pervert. So much for "listening to Britain"!

With William Hague's continued support, Duncan criticised his own constituents for 'intolerance' and attacked British National Party members who picketed the hostel as 'extremists'. Yet can you honestly think of anything more extreme than forcing the parents of a law-abiding village to accept into their midst a sadistic child-rapist and multiple murderer?

OUT OF WORK?

"DO THE FULL MONTY!"

says Tony Blair

"GET 'EM OFF!" That's the insulting message sent by Tony Blair to the unemployed and low-waged as his government's policies plunge Britain into yet another unnecessary recession.

Speaking in Sheffield while launching a programme to force the young unemployed into cheap labour rip-offs and pointless 'make-work' schemes, Blair had the barefaced cheek to tell us that the unemployed should follow the example of the redundant steelworkers who 'retrain' as strippers in the film The Full Monty. This, he lectured, was a good example of the sort of flexibility needed to get a job in Britain today!

What a nerve! The Tories closed down whole industries, but even they only said: "Get on yer bike!" Now Labour are closing down what's left, and, with no real jobs around, they want us to "Get 'Em Off!"

Blair not only thinks it's funny to see skilled men trying to earn the money to keep their families together by stripping in the gutted shell of their old workplace — he actually thinks it's a good thing!

Remember that when you next meet someone campaigning for the Labour Party — but don't hold your breath, because these champagne socialists only make the effort to mix with us peasants at election times, when they expect us all to put them back into parliament or the council chamber for another few years of high-life and back-handers.

Doesn't it make you sick? And isn't it time you joined the people who are going to do something about it? The British National Party is growing fast all over Britain, and now we're organising around here as well.

Our aim is simple: to build a totally new political movement, which will give the British people the chance to kick out the tired and corrupt Lib/Lab/Con gang — and their job-destroying policies of 'globalisation'. In their place we're going to put a patriotic government — a government which will put Britain and the British people first, and get this country back to work!

Left: Albanian immigrants pour off a freighter into Italy. Once they are there, EU rules make it easy for them to join the flood of immigrants and bogus 'asylum-seekers' pouring into Britain that Britain should continue to take in, house, feed and care for thousands of 'asylum-seekers' at a time when homelessness and hospital waiting lists are rising steadily? YES/NO that Labour and LibDem councils are right to keep putting native-born British people to the back of the housing queue? YES/NO that the Home Secretary is right to give an extra 30,000 'asylum-seekers' the right to stay in Britain just because the authorities haven't been able to investigate their often bogus claims as to why they should be allowed in? YES/NO that it's right to build new houses on Green Belt land in order to make room for 150,000 extra immigrants every year? YES/NO

that it was right or democratic to allow mass immigration to change the face of our country without the politicians ever asking us if we wanted it? YES/NO

'NO' EVERY TIME? That's what we think too. That's why we're building the British National Party. And why you should join our campaign to put the British people first, before immigrants and bogus 'asylum-seekers'.

HANG CHILD MURDERERS!

The vast majority of people agree that the death penalty should be reintroduced for child killers. Yet neither Conservatives, Labour nor Liberal Democrats are prepared to back such a measure into law. Parliament is supposed to represent the people. But the do-gooders who sit in Government are more concerned with the rights of murderers than with the safety of our children. Sick child killers are kept in prison, often in relative luxury and at vast expense, until such time as they are released to kill again. Others such as Ian Brady and Myra Hindley are a constant reminder to the tragic parents of their victims. All those like Brady and Hindley, gave up the right to live the moment they took a young life. With more and more of these cases occurring it is time for the death penalty to be reintroduced. A country which allows the killers of its children to live is morally bankrupt. Only the British National Party is committed to the reintroduction of the death penalty for child killers.

Rebuild Britain now!

HEALTH AND WELFARE

Those in work are being financially crushed by the burden of paying for a growing alienated underclass — drug addicts, habitual criminals, benefit cheats and the rest. Our taxes are wasted on a welfare state that has grown out of control. There is no incentive to decent people to have families. 'Trendy' outreach workers and the race relations circus represent unproductive growth industries, the burden of which is paid from our pockets. Our National Health Service is facing cuts due to massive bureaucratic wastage. The welfare state should only be a safety net for the genuinely needy.

A DECENT EDUCATION

Education is in a mess. 'Trendy' teachers have destroyed discipline in the classroom. Ironically, teachers are now regularly assaulted by disruptive pupils. Drug-taking is rife. Too many children leave school unable to take their places in society as useful citizens. In...ead of learning about British traditions and heroes, children are taught 'multi-culturalism'. There must be a return to traditional teaching methods. Competitive sports must again be encouraged. Grammar schools must be re-established and classes streamed according to ability. Incompetent teachers must be sacked.

SAY NO TO EUROPE!

Membership of the European Union is costing us a fortune. We're the second highest contributer to European funds. We buy much more from Europe than we sell to it. Due to the Common Agricultural Policy, our food is also much more expensive. Our fishing industry has almost been destroyed. Petty bureaucratic regulations interfere with our traditions and take over our lives. Our rights to make our own laws are being seized by unelected officials in Brussels. The politicians lied to get us into Europe — we were told it was just a trading bloc. Our involvement in the EU has become a nightmare. It's time to get out!

REBUILD OUR INDUSTRY

At one time Britain led the world in manufacturing. Now we barely make anything of real importance. We've become like a third world country — dependent on imports for most of the manufactured products we use, and with an inefficient and unsafe transport system. True prosperity in the modern world depends on manufacturing industry, backed up by high technology. Britain's industries must be rebuilt — with the emphasis on high-quality manufactured goods. We must impose import controls and inject massive investment into new factories. This is the only way to create real jobs and give our young people a future.

BLOOD & HONOUR/ROCK AGAINST COMMUNISM UNITY CONCERT

On Saturday the 26th September Mansfield played host to a massive unity concert. Various factions of the White Resistance music scene — Blood & Honour and Rock Against Communism — came together in a show of unity to mark the 5th anniversary of the death of the father of White Resistance music — Ian Stuart Donaldson.

It was the biggest concert for years. Nearly 500 Racial Nationalists of all hues, with a large contingent of Germans in attendance and even individuals from as far afield as Italy and Portugal.

First up were West London's Legion of St. George, flying into an excellent set including Legion of St. George, There Goes The Neighbourhood, and crowd favourite, White Preservation Society.

Next up were Wales' finest Celtic Warrior who dedicated their set to their fallen comrade Andy Lewis, who lost his spirited battle against cancer last month. Their set included Land of Our Fathers and a brilliant cover of Fortress' I Hate Commie Scum, closing with Olé Olé after requests from the crowd.

Taking over from Celtic Warrior were WhiteLaw from Nottingham, who started their set with an excellent ballad so take note all of you who think White Resistance Music is just about Oi! WhiteLaw have come on leaps and bounds from the first time I saw them and have added a guitarist to make them up to a 5-piece and the improvement was instantly apparent. Their set included a cover of Combat 84's Rapist and their excellent Fetch The Rope neatly summed up the paedophile problem.

Stigger and Warlord were next and started with Tomorrow Belongs To Me. They also played their excellent Beautiful England, Brave Ulster and finished with Skrewdriver's White Power. Warlord, as always, electrified the crowd with a highly professional set

Last but definitely not least was Ken McLellan and Brutal Attack who are undoubtedly White Rock's greatest live act. They started with Tales of Glory, then went on to play a flawless set with Let it Burn, Return of St. George, Rock Against Communism and an excellent cover of Skrewdriver's Blood & Honour.

WhiteLaw in Action

This was definitely the best gig that I've ever been to. The BNP stall sold racks of *BN*s and a few Spearheads too. The atmosphere was great and the gig coincided nicely with the release of the BNP's Fund-raising CD, Our Europe... Not Theirs.

ANTI-WHITE RACISM — WHEN A BLACK MAN IS WORTH 50 TIMES THAT OF A WHITE MAN

Pictured right are Sam Yeboah and Tom Conwell. Both men within a day of each other last month won industrial tribunal decisions ruling that they had suffered racial discrimination. In both cases awards are to be made in favour of the injured parties.

The award to Sam Yeboah has not yet been made, but is expected to be a massive £750,000. Sam Yeboah is black.

The award made to Tom Conwell is just £15,000. Tom Conwell is white.

BN asks this question: Why is it that two such similar cases should result in two vastly different awards? Some difference would be expected. But a factor of fifty? This is institutionalised anti-white racism at its worst. For years liberals have made special pleadings for non-whites and have been so succesful that whites are not only becoming minorities in their own land, but are also finding themselves the victim of blatent anti-white racism.

White people are now finding racism in every walk of life. In the workplace for promotion; overt racist hiring practices saying 'black or Asian man or woman only' — allowable under section 4 of the Race Relations Act — but only for non-whites; and 'subtle' racist hiring policies such as the requirement to speak Urdu or Punjabi; in school where altercations between pupils mean that white pupils are assumed to be guilty of 'racism' in any altercation with a non-white; on the street, where whites are increasingly the victims of race hate attacks; and now white people are facing institutionalised racism from the Industrial Tribunals, which have effectively ruled either that black people are worth fifty times that of whites, or that anti-white racism and white hurt feelings are not as bad as anti-black racism and black hurt feelings.

This kind of anti-white racial discrimination may be fine so far as self-hating liberal whites are concerned, but it is not fine so far as BN and the BNP is concerned. It is not tongue in cheek to say that the BNP demands equality with blacks and Asians for whites! In school, at work, in the courtroom, in hiring practices, in civic amenities (when did you ever hear of a white cultural/youth centre?), and in a genuine look by government at the growing phenomenon of anti-white race-hate attacks. Our society is far removed from the 1970s. White people are now an oppressed and discriminated against group needing special protection.

Tom Clinton, victim of racism. His award will buy a small car.

Sam Yeboah, victim of racism. His award will 50 small cars

LESBIAN MUMS SPLIT!

Lesbians Make Good Mums! That used to be the tired slogan seen on countless picket-boards carried around by the weird brigade when turning up at church conferences debating homosexuality.

Lesbians LisaDawson & Dawn Whiting

That's all finished now as Lesbian mums, Lisa Dawson and Dawn Whiting have split up. Dawson and Whiting both became pregnant with a do-it-yourself artificial insemination kit. A pickle jar, a syringe and a (homosexual?) sperm donor were all that were required. They were in love they said. Lesbians make good mums they said. Now Lisa says: "We don't love each other anymore."

Now that they are to go their separate ways, BN wonders after squabbling over the Jimmy Somerville records who will get the pickle jar?

RECENT POLL FINDINGS

85% of adults believe that at least one parent should stay at home and care for children under 5.
72% of adults rule out joining the Euro at least until it had been shown to work. This figure rises to 86% of young voters.

CRE SCORES OWN GOAL

The evil Campaign for Racial Equality scored an own goal in its latest advertising campaign. Posters comparing negroes to Orang Utans and urging white women to buy rape alarms were accepted at face value by the public generating just 52 complaints.

Embarrassed CRE officials brazened it out by running the ads again with the slogan What was worse? This advert or your failure to complain?

Labour drop laws to aid whites

Labour have renounced plans for a bill to outlaw age discrimination at work which adversely affects white people because of the numbers involved. One-third of over-50s are out of work.

Labour dropped the bill because the extra number of white workers coming on to the job market would have militated against further immigration.

THE BNP AND RACE

The BNP is best known for its policy on race and immigration. The BNP opposes immigration into the UK from whatever its source. For forty years this immigration has primarily been coloured. But it is not an issue of colour since the party is equally opposed to immigration from Albania and Eastern Europe.

The BNP is not a 'race supremacist' party. The BNP does not claim that any one race is superior to any other, simply that they are different. The party merely wishes to preserve those differences which make up the rich tapestry of human kind.

Neither has the BNP any connection with 'race hate'. Indeed it is the multi-racialists who are the haters since it is they who are determined to destroy all cultures and all races to achieve a multi-racial mish-mash.

To protect and preserve the racial and cultural integrity of the British people — and of others too, the party believes in separation.

Only in a Black society will Black kids find true Black role models. Only in a Muslim society will Muslims find their religion free from Western influence. All peoples need a homeland. The British too need a homeland.

Nor are the BNP 'racist'. Indeed, the BNP are resisting the racist colonisation of Britain in which the native people of Britain are having their culture suppressed, their land colonised and are being discriminated against on racial grounds.

To sum up, the BNP is fighting for the very right to exist of not just the British, but of all peoples.

Letters

Write to: The Editor, British Nationalist, PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

Sir — American President Clinton says he deplores terrorist actions like that at Omagh. Who was it then who bombed a Sudanese medicine factory resulting in more than 20 dead?
E. Mapin, Norfolk.

Sir — Haringey's council is more than 50% staffed by Blacks. We are told that they got their jobs on merit. I am sure that I am not alone in receiving illiterate letters and being screamed at by telephone receptionists. Protests are shrugged off as 'racist'.

Racist? Lists regularly appear of races welcome at support groups/other facilities etc. White people are never included in that welcome.
J. Duncan, London.

Sir — I am writing to congratulate you for your fine publication, British Nationalist [I like this man! — Ed]. In the July issue, you featured violence between blacks and Asians. It is the same in America. Hispanics and blacks in America hate each other. Prisons segregate these two groups and race riots between them are common in our major cities.

Of course the media never talk about this nor do they talk about the daily incidents of black on white racism. In their closed minds, only whites can be racist.

Please keep up the good work. Your group is one of the few in Britain standing up for the real victims of racism — white people.
J. Lubinskas, USA.

Sir — How much longer must we suffer the pontifications of marxists on BBC Radio? Constantly guests from Living Marxism and Red Pepper are invited on to preach their poison. Where is the balance? If readers agree that the BBC exhibits a pro-marxist bias they can protest and demand a BNP counter argument by telephoning the beeb on 0181-743-8000.
Peter Baker,
BNP Media Unit, Stamford.

Sir — Listening to the Talk Radio UK late night phone in on Thursday 24/9/98 I heard Mr. Mike Newland being interviewed by James Whale of Talk Radio. I was very impressed by the calm and dignified manner of Mr. Newland against the overbearing and rude Mr. Whale. I feel sure that many Britons listening will have a better view of the BNP as a result. Well done Mr. Newland.
L. Robson, Wakefield.

Sir — Thank you for your circular. I and many millions like me couldn't agree more. I enclose a small donation of £25. Good luck.
Country dweller, Lincolnshire.

Sir — I recently read that we Scots should be proud of the new mosque that has just been built in Edinburgh. I wrote in protest to Scottish 'National' Party leader Alex Salmond MP. The reply I received was quite sickening. It ends by saying that Asians are: 'every bit as Scottish and patriotic as you or I'. These so-called Scottish politicians sicken me. I am a patriotic Scot and a proud member of the BNP.
D. McDonald, Aberdeen.

Sir — Previously, I have agreed with everything that BN had to say, but in your September issue in 'The BNP and Race', it was stated that no race is superior to any other. Practically everything worthwhile in Africa or Asia has been initiated by Europeans. Combustion engines, aircraft, hygiene and anything else you care to name. Surely these people are inferior?
N. Odell, Middlesex.

[Editors reply — What the article said is that: 'the BNP does not claim that any one race is superior to any other.' Others might. It is true that Europeans, particularly we British, have been at the forefront of invention. Nevertheless, others have been responsible for gunpowder, paper, writing, the development of agriculture, the first use of metals etc. It is also a fact that black athletes dominate field sports.

A superior/inferior argument is pointless. It can be challenged (Name the last white heavyweight champion boxer!); it is unnecessary (since even if we British were the most witless crowd imaginable, we would still want to preserve our unique racial and cultural identity); it would be seen as a bigoted argument (and win no support); and finally, claiming white racial superiority is unlawful. What we do say, is that so far as achievement is concerned we have no cause for shame — British achievements are second to none]

Sir — Successive British governments have destroyed British industries — Coal, steel, ship-building, hosiery, footwear etc. Now they are doing their best to kill off British farming.

At this rate, we will soon be importing everything that can be manufactured, mined and farmed here in Britain.
R. Brown, Leicester.

WE SAY...SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL BRITISH CORNER SHOP

At the top of Stanhope road, their stand two general stores. One owned by the Robertson family, and the other by the Alis.

Three generations of the Robertsons have served the local community for over 26 years. The new-comers want them out, and it seems they will stop at nothing to achieve it. The latest incident culminated with a member of the Ali family waving a baseball bat at the Robertsons and threatening to "Smash their brains in" with it. This is becoming an all too familiar story - new comers opening up next door, initially staying open longer and giving the impression that they are under-cutting the prices of their established neighbours. When this fails to get rid of the competition, the 'bully-boy' tactics start.

The Robertsons have suffered a 5 year campaign of abuse and intimidation at the hands of the Ali family. If the Robertsons were subjecting the newcomers to this sort of harassment, local councillors, police chiefs, newspapers and loony left groups would be screaming about "Evil racists".

As it is, no-one is prepared to stand up for the Robertsons - there are no 'Brownie points' in standing up for ordinary, hard-working British people.
This sort of abuse and racial harassment is unacceptable - whoever the victims are. The hypocrisy is sickening!

Where you shop is entirely your business, however, we humbly suggest you support your local British corner shop - while you still have one.

The BNP leaflet supporting the Charltons'.

There is something in the British character which has always detested the arrogant bully.

So, when Tyne & Wear BNP heard of a campaign of intimidation against a family of local British shopkeepers, they decided to speak out on their behalf. After all, if the BNP has a purpose, it is defending the British people.

The family in question, the Charltons', had suffered five years of abuse, racial harassment and even death threats at the hands of their next door neighbours, the Ali family, while running the 'Robertson' general store.

This included car loads of Asians sitting outside their shop in a car intimidating staff and customers, selling the Charlton's outside display produce as the Ali's own and when confronted, Mr. Ali threatening to smash peoples' brains in with a baseball bat!

The Shields Gazette likened the party leaflet to a race hate slur and the Newcastle Evening Chronicle called it 'hate mail'. Even so, Mr. Ali in the Chronicle admitted that: "Things aren't good between us and the other shop."

After having established the facts, a leaflet was quickly drawn up to tell local people of the Charlton's plight. 600 leaflets were distributed in the unit's first foray into community politics.

TRADERS' ANGER AT RACE HATE SLUR

By STUART LAUNDY
Chief reporter

BRITISH National Party activists have been condemned for turning competition between rival grocers into a potential racial flashpoint.

The BNP circulated 600 leaflets in part of South Shields urging people to support a British-owned store and shun the neighbouring shop which is run by a Pakistani family.

Both shopkeepers, and families who have received the leaflet condemned it today.

Northumbria Police said an investigation would be launched into the distribution of the leafter, which may breach race laws.

The row centres on two shops in Stanhope Road. One - Robertsons - is run by the Charltons, while the store next door, LA Foodstore, is owned by the Ali family.

The BNP leaflet claims that the Charltons - who are referred to throughout as "The Robertsons" - have been the victims of "bully boy" tactics.

The Alis have been subject to racist graffiti daubed on their shop shutters.

Tony Charlton, manager of Robertson's, said none of his family had co-operated in any way with the BNP to produce the leaflet.

"We do not want to be branded racists. I think this leaflet is absolutely wrong, and I am just as upset by this as anybody else.

"We are just here trying to make a living."

Mr Charlton's family has owned the store for more than 25 years. The Alis moved in next door five years ago.

Nasar Ali said: "We have had shops

RACE SLUR... the shops, owned by Charltons and the Alis, where race activists stirred up trouble.

The reaction was unbelievable. Just 600 leaflets instantly broke the news blackout imposed upon the party by the local media. While the facts may have been trivialised and twisted by the media, Tynesiders have been left in no doubt who is there to stand up for the ordinary decent British.

Hate mail targets Pakistani-run shop

By JULIE CUSH

A PAKISTANI family told of their terror today after 600 race hate letters were posted around their neighbourhood, urging people to boycott their shop.

Many residents were horrified when they read the leaflets calling for them not to use the Ali family's store in Stanhope Road, South Shields, but to go instead to neighbouring shop Robertson's, which is run by a white family.

Now the Ali family fear the leaflets will whip up hatred and provoke racist attacks.

The hate-mail was penned by the South Tyneside branch of the extreme right wing British National Party (BNP), which claims it has about 15 members in the town.

Newcomers

It says: "Three generations of the Robertsons have served their local community for over 26 years.

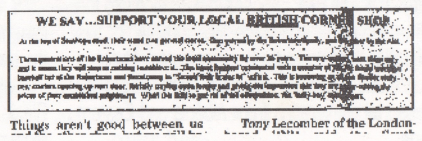

"The newcomers want them out and it seems they will stop at nothing to achieve this."

It said there was bad feeling between the two shops and concluded: "Is no-one prepared to stand up for the Robertsons? There are no Brownie points in standing up for the ordinary, hard-working British people."

BNP RESPOND TO RACE ATTACK!

West Midlands activists made Nuneaton the centre of their Day of Action after a local Labour councillor was made the victim of an anti-white race hate attack.

Nuneaton councillor, Alan Griffiths was beaten senseless by four racist blacks after they approached him and said: "You're in our country now white man, hand over your money!" Griffiths refused and took a severe beating.

Excellent local initiative saw a local leaflet, entitled 'Stop the Race Attacks!' swiftly produced and 700-800 of these were handed out in Nuneaton's town centre where the story had made front page news. Three copies of British Nationalist were also sold.

WOKING MEETING

Mid-September saw an extremely well attended rally in Woking which attracted just over 50 to hear party leader John Tyndall speak on Britain's decline. He went on to note that around the world nationalism is stronger than ever and was well placed to be the dominant ideology in the next century.

Group Organiser, Paul Henderson chaired the meeting and also spoke at length, attacking the assertion by Eddy George, the Chairman of the Bank of England that unemployment needs to be higher for the good of the economy!

Before the collection, Mr. Tyndall donated a signed first edition copy of The Eleventh Hour for auction which raised £110. Following this, a dutch auction raised a remarkable £420 to make a grand total of £540. £420 was then donated to the Euro '99 fund.

MID STAFFS

Way back in August, Mid-Staffs BNP attended the Staffordshire Countryside Game Fair at Hatherton Hall near Cannock and distributed 220 copies of British Countryman and more than 100 'Theme Park Britain' leaflets to the people there, all of which were well received.

In the evening, Mid-Staffs celebrated its first anniversary as a BNP group with a well-attended barbeque. Twenty members and supporters tucked into burgers, chops and sausages washed down with good beers and lager. A great night was had by all and more than £70 was raised for the party's Euro '99 fund.

ACTION FILE

E. MIDS

In late August, E. Midlands BNP held a highly successful Day of Action in Peterborough and Rutland, selling British Nationalist and giving out hundreds of leaflets.

It was particularly noticeable that shoppers after reading the party's message, returned to talk about the BNP's highly publicised establishment of a group in the city.

In the afternoon, the team travelled to Oakham and villages in the area of Wing Grange — not now to house child killer Robert Oliver. In these villages, activists distributed leaflets and spoke to residents about their concerns for the future.

LONDON

The very new North West London group decided to go further afield than normal for a Day of Action, picking out Gosport, Portsmouth and the Lee-on-Solent areas for attention. The small group distributed nearly 2,000 leaflets.

SHEFFIELD

The party's small Sheffield group have also been getting in on the Countryside action. After mail-shotting likely local farms and agri-businesses, two activists set off in mid-September for the weekly livestock auction at Bakewell market in Derbyshire. In a hectic 15 minutes, the team surprised itself by selling out of their last 25 copies of British Countryman, snapped by eager farmers who greeted them with comments like: "I'm with you all the way", and "Keep up the good work lads." Proof positive that you can't carry too much ammunition!

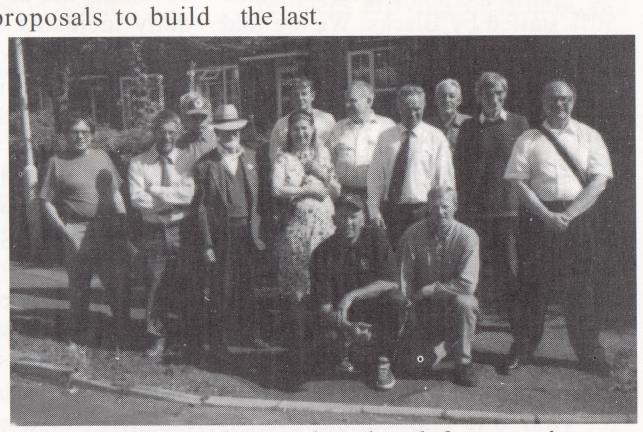

BNP STOP THE BUILDING!

Planned development next to Bishop's Cleeve in Gloucestershire led to a dozen BNP members descending on the town with the party's new 'Stop the Building' leaflet. Local residents are fearful of proposals to build hundreds of new homes on the edge of their small town.

Local people received these leaflets eagerly which chimed in with their own concerns.

The warmth of the welcome extended to the party can be gauged by a local landlord who provided food at short notice outside of normal hours.

These were the first BNP leaflets in this part of the country ever, and local activists vowed that they wouldn't be the last.

West Country activists take a break from putting out the party's 'Stop the Building' leaflet

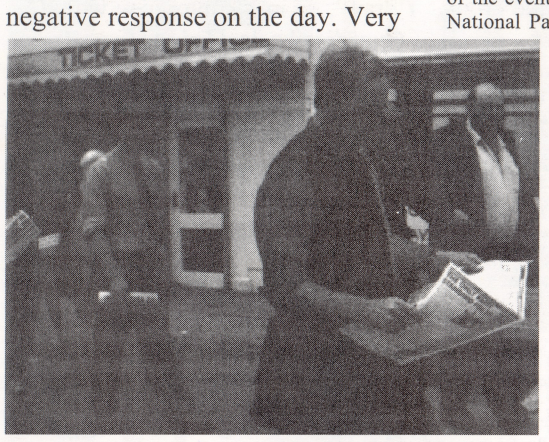

BNP LEAFLET FARMERS RALLY IN BLACKPOOL

The Labour party conference brought out thousands of protesters against Labour's incompetent government.

The BNP were also there in the shape of ten local activists plus 5 members of the instant response unit to leaflet a large rally of angry farmers with 2,000 copies of British Countryman.

The party received just one negative response on the day. Very often, BN reports that party activists were well received. And on this occasion too. Indeed, so incensed was Jim Murphy, Labour MP for Eastwood that he felt impelled to write in to The Guardian complaining about the party's good reception. He wrote:

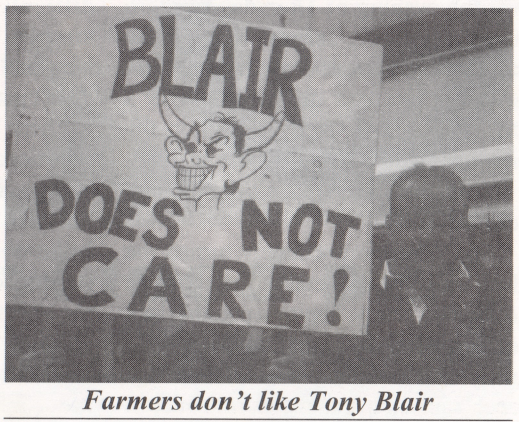

> 'I had the pleasure of attending last weekend's farmer's rally at the Labour Party conference, but I found one aspect of the event deeply worrying. The British National Party was freely distributing its publicity to farmers and the public who attended. The BNP's new found commitment to British farmers couldn't mask their virulent anti-Semitism, homophobia and strident racism — nor did it try.
> The National Farmers Union cannot control who turns up at their events, however, it can make it clear to the BNP and those who attend that it is not acceptable to use them as a platform for the dissemination of material which can only be described as filth.
> In the half hour I watched, no one questioned the BNP and not a single steward or representative of the NFU suggested they were not welcome. Consequently, a very important event was ruined by the ambivalence of the organisers towards these extremists. The NFU should make strenuous efforts to disassociate themselves from extremists who often hover on the fringes but on this occasion were all too public.'

Farmers read* British Countryman!

Jim Murphy is a very funny man. So British Countryman is 'filth' containing anti-Semitism, strident racism and homophobia? That will come as news to everyone else who will have read it at Blackpool since BC contained none of these things. As for the word 'extremists', BN suggests the real extremists are those who are condemning British farming to death — like the Labour Party and the Tories before them. Perhaps Murphy's real gripe is that he saw at first hand the BNP intereacting with the real Britain and didn't like what he saw — and that is considerable sympathy by the British people for the BNP. Tough luck Murph!

Altogether, some 10,000 farmers and their families turned up at the rally held in Blackpool's football ground. Inside, farmers stamped and cheered speeches lashing the government's indifference to the fate of our farming industry, but the highlight for watching BNP members came early with a mock funeral cortege with a coffin marked 'death of British agriculture'. Leading the cortege were 'Blair & Co.' funeral directors! That neatly summed it up. Farmers have seen the death of British shipbuilding, steel, coal, textiles etc. Now it's their turn, but they know it and like true Britons, they're fighting back hard!

GLASGOW MEETING

Glasgow BNP held a particularly well-attended rally on Sunday 6th September where Harry Mullin spoke of white self-hate (referring to liberals everywhere) and Highlands and Islands Organiser Kenneth Smith spoke of media bias and how to combat it referring to the recent events in the Highlands relating to Isles FM Radio which was forced to make an on air correction regarding the BNP.

Scottish Regional Organiser Scott McLean outlined the party's hopes for Scotland in next year's Euro Elections and also chaired the meeting which raised £110 for the Euro '99 fund.

ILFORD MEETING

Eddy Morrison was the guest speaker at an Ilford meeting in East London last month. Eddy's central, theme was race which he described as the one vital part of society, and which the BNP is attempting to save, without which all else is of no importance. As Eddy said: "You can have the best economic system in the world. But if you've lost the race, then what's the point?"

Two dozen people applauded this speech and that of Regional Organiser Tony Lecomber who outlined the latest plans for the coming European elections.

The collection raised £130 for the Euro '99 fund.

FOUR NEW GROUPS FORMED!

This month, BN is pleased to announce the formation of four new BNP groups. Two of the groups — Grantham and Argyll — are quite small, but from little acorns oak trees do grow...

Grantham is a particularly interesting area since while being in the East Midlands, it borders East Anglia. Party members nearby able to lend a hand are asked to get in touch by phoning direct or by writing c/o Nottingham BNP.

Argyll Organiser, Paul Wilkinson said that he is sure that given a kick start, Argyll will prove good territory for the BNP and credit for this development goes to Highlands & Islands Organiser Kenneth Smith who has nurtured the area for some while now.

The third new group is Peterborough BNP. After a wave of excellent publicity in the town and correspondingly good rates of enquiries, the party has finally launched itself officially into this potentially promising area. Rising unemployment and regular race-hate attacks against white people with no word of succour from the local MP mean that Peterborough should prove fertile ground for the party. Peterborough is contactable directly by phone or, like Grantham, c/o Nottingham BNP.

Preston BNP is the fourth group formed this month, the result of a wave of enquiries coming in from the North West. Other groups in the region are sure to follow as this region powers ahead.

BNP SPOKESMAN INVITED ON TALK RADIO UK!

On the evening of Thursday the 24th of September, James Whale, the abrasive American-style host of Talk Radio's late slot grilled the BNP's Mike Newland for two hours in the interests of freedom of speech.

BN salutes Mr. Whale's democratic credentials!

Mr. Whale immediately turned the heat on by asking detailed questions on economic policy, hoping a possible lack of knowledge might embarrass the party by concentrating on the exchange rate, balance of payments and interest rates. What Mr. Whale was probably unaware of is that Mike holds a masters degree in economics! Most of what Mike said was probably over the heads of the ordinary listener, but since most people don't expect to understand this difficult subject, most would have simply been impressed that Mr. Newland was the master of his facts and didn't get 'turned over' by Mr. Whale.

There then followed wide-ranging questions over various points of party policy in which Mike acquitted himself very well. For two hours, Mike not only held out against the combined assault of Mr. Whale and the carefully selected phone-in callers, but scored point after point for the party in one of the most gruelling interviews possible on radio. Regular listeners will know how James Whale regularly chews up and then spits out his guests and callers if he doesn't agree with their views. Against Mike, that simply wasn't possible.

Half way through the interview, Whale cut in and said: "Mike, I have to tell you that the vast majority of white callers are against you. How do you feel about that?"

This is interesting because it raises the definite question of fixing the callers. The BNP's Colin Smith was sitting next to Lynda, Mr. Whale's production manager and when the calls were being banked up, she turned to Colin and said: "Do you know, 98 per cent of these calls are for you." And indeed, the second caller was admitted party member Dennis Bartlett from Woking. This, however, was allowed to give the illusion of 'fairness'. After that, only a hostile 2 per cent of calls were being allowed through!

Nevertheless, Mike won through and at the programme's end, James Whale must have been fairly impressed because he ended by saying: "Thank you for coming on the show Michael." Party HQ has since been swamped with congratulatory letters saying Mike is the tops!

The Guardian GET IT WRONG

Last month saw a two-page trailer in The Guardian's G2 section for a book supposedly written by ex-NF loser, Matthew Collins, an admitted drunk, thug and self-confessed liar.

Collins left the Front and rapidly reached the very bottom of human existence. Since then, he's decided to make some money by squealing on his old mates, and hence the book. The trouble for Collins though, is that the NF these days aren't a big enough 'draw', so in his interview with The Guardian he decided to misrepresent himself as a BNP member and Organiser. This piece of nonsense was quickly pounced upon by the party resulting in a fulsome correction.

Dear Sir,

I am writing to you to secure a correction to your G2 section of the 3rd of this month on the story on page 6 entitled: 'The man who said, enough'.

The overall impression of the article is that Collins was a BNP member. The preamble went thus: '... Collins will describe his violent years with the BNP on the streets of south London...'

Yet in the selected text of his affidavit, it is quite clear that Collins was involved with the NF, not the BNP. The preamble was thus, misleading.

Furthermore, in paragraph 2, it states: '... After spending almost three years as an organiser for the National Front and the British National Party...' I have to inform you that Collins has never been an Organiser within the BNP. Indeed, Collins has not even been a member of the BNP — ever! But not only was Collins not even a member of the BNP, enquiries made by myself reveal that Collins was not an Organiser for the NF either!

In summary, I would like a correction stating that Collins has at no time ever been an Organiser for the BNP, nor has he ever been a member.

The Guardian Thursday September 17 1998

CORRECTIONS AND CLARIFICATIONS

IN AN article headed, The man who said, enough, Pages 6 and 7, G2, September 3, we said that Matthew Collins, had worked for almost three years "as an organiser for the National Front and the British National Party". He was not an organiser for the BNP and, in fact, at no time joined the BNP.

Euro '99 Fund

Target £50,000 Total so far £19,879

Last month, a very healthy £3,022 was raised by individuals for the party's Euro '99 fund, partly accounted for by this edition of BN being slightly late. That brings the total from individuals to £10,346. In addition, returns by Organisers show an increase of £2,243 (£420 coming from a single meeting of Woking BNP) bringing the regional/branch total up to £9,533. This makes a grand total so far of £19,879. Nevertheless, the BNP's £50,000 appeal to fight the European elections next year is still lagging behind schedule. A TV broadcast and delivery of the party's election address to 16 million voters is riding on the ability of the party to raise the cash. But to do that, you need to give, to give generously, to give often and to give now. The BNP is not funded by heroin crime bosses like the Tories or millionaire perverts like the Labour party. The BNP is your party, the party of the ordinary decent British. It's up to you! BN thanks everyone who made the effort. But what about the rest? The enemies of Britain are only too ready to put their money where their mouths are. What about you? If the party's target is to be reached, everyone must examine their conscience and their wallet — it's time to give now! Please make all contributions payable to 'British National Party' and send to:

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the European Union: trade with Europe where it suits us but no political ties, and no monetary union.
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of Government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people — the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of 'trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO; closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain; British withdrawal from the war in former Yugoslavia, where no British interest is at stake; the bringing home of British forces from Germany; the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- A return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
